For three days a week,
Lee the wee flea lived on a sheep.
The sheep lived in the weeds.
The sheep ate leaves from the weeds.

Lee was not like other fleas.
He liked to eat sweet nectar from roses.

One day Bea saw Lee eating nectar.
“What are you doing?” screamed Bea.
“Fleas do not eat sweet nectar.”
“But I like eating sweet nectar,” said Lee.
“I do not want to be a flea.
I want to be a bee.”

“Come with me to my hive,” said Bea.
“You can meet the queen bee.
We can see if she will let you live in the hive.”

So Lee leaped on Bea's back and off they went to the tree.

"I have always dreamed of being a bee," said Lee.

They went to the hive to see the queen.
She was sitting in the big seat.
"I have come to speak to you,
dear queen," said Bea.
"Can Lee the Flea live in the hive?"
"It's a deal," said the queen.
"He can live in the hive for free
if he keeps it clean."

The Bee and the Flea • Long /e/ Digraph

Each day, Lee would sweep the hive three times.
He kept the hive squeaky clean.
And the queen let Lee feast on sweet nectar.
